Success Stories

Pooja Kanwate

When team Aatmaja Foundation first met Pooja she was studying in 1st year of Diploma Engineering at D Y Patil College Pune. It was difficult to miss a passionate and enthusiastic personality keen to forge ahead to achieve her goals. A perfect prerequisite to be 'Aatmaja'. Her Father works as a truck driver, just managing to meet both ends.

Pooja will complete a BE in Computers, from D Y Patil College of Engineering, Pune.

She has got job offer from leading IT company and will be working as IMTS (Infrastructure Management and Technical Services) Engineer.

Congratulation's Pooja!!
Proud of you!!

Pranali Patil

Pranali is a bright and active girl .Her teachers can vouch for how bright and sharp she is. But then, her excellent academic performance aside, she might have dropped out of school sooner or later like most other underprivileged students in India.

To understand the gravity of the economic backwardness of Pranali's family we need not look very far. The meager monthly income brought home by her Father, who runs a Pan shop, clearly reflects their economic situation.

Such being Pranali's cheerless situation, she required some kind of a support system in order to sustain her good academic performance. In fact, she received precisely this kind of support from Aatmaja Foundation.

Today Pranali, who is in 1st year BCom and recently she cleared CA foundation exam. Asked about her ambition in life, Pranali replies with hope in her eyes, "I want to become a Chartered Accountant. And with Aatmaja Foundation supporting my education I'm sure I will."

We too are sure that Pranali will achieve her goal.
